

Windmills is a high-impact attitudinal training developed by the California Governor's Committee on Employment of People with Disabilities.

Many organizations would like to employ people with disabilities, but find that fears, biases and myths create barriers in the hiring process. Windmills focuses on attitudes, but also addresses legal requirements.

Service Alternatives, Inc. is proud to offer Windmills to employers. The program can be tailored to meet your specific training needs.

909 SE Everett Mall Way
Suite C345
Everett, WA 98208
425-710-0107

Brandy Schutz
Phone: 509-654-5144
bschutz@serval-t-training.com

Windmills

Disability Awareness Training

Advancing the Potential...

Service Alternatives has been providing high quality employment services to individuals with disabilities since 1990. We believe that our communities grow stronger when every member has the opportunity to contribute. Our services are defined by integrity, excellence, community and customer satisfaction.

Service Alternatives has a team of skilled trainers who can provide your organization with useful and practical training.

Objectives of Windmills

- Gain increased self-awareness while exploring personal and cultural attitudes about people with disabilities
- Understand how attitudes impact communication and behaviors
- Gain increased confidence in your ability to communicate with individuals with disabilities

Organizations using Windmills

- IBM
- General Electric
- Chevron
- US Department of Labor
- McDonalds
- Wells Fargo

